SPRING INTO ENERGY SAVINGS

Warmer weather means longer days, and new opportunities to save both energy and money in your home or office. Consider adding these ideas to your spring routine!

Let fresh air in – Open your windows. This creates a cross-breeze bringing a natural cool throughout your home without switching on your air conditioner.

Adjust thermostat – Set at a comfortable temperature when you're at home. Raise the setting at bedtime and when you're away from home.

Close vents – Keep doors and vents closed in rooms not in use.

Caulk – Caulking is valuable during any season. Use it to close air leaks and openings in your home to keep warm air outside.

Full loads – Wait to use your washer and dishwasher only when it's full. Consider air drying dishes and clothing for even more savings.

Avoid the oven – Using the microwave or stovetop eliminates excess heat from your home. Also consider grilling outside.

THIRD PARTY SERVICE PROVIDES SAFEGUARD

If you take care of a friend or relative who could potentially overlook paying their PGW bill because of illness, financial hardship or other issues, Third-Party Notification can help.

A PGW account holder can designate a third party to receive notification if their account is in danger of losing service.

Notification does not obligate that third party to pay the customer's bill. It's just a way to receive an alert when someone you know is in danger of gas service termination.

The notification can be canceled at any time by request of the account holder or the third party. Call our Customer Care Team for more information: 215-235-1000.

PGW NAMED PHILLY'S ENVIRONMENTAL CHAMPION

Here at PGW, we're committed to our role as a leader in corporate sustainability. We recognize that it's fundamental to our daily operations, and equally important to the community we serve.

That's why we're pleased to share that PGW has been named a 2019 Environmental Champion by a new Cogent Reports study.

The study surveyed utility customers served by 140 electric, natural gas and combination utilities over 12 months and scored the utilities on an Environmental Dedication index.

Environmental Champion utilities are rated for their environmental commitment, support of environmental causes and aiding customers to become more environmentally friendly. Out of the 140 utilities surveyed, only 29 received this title.

"PGW works to improve our environmental footprint every day," said PGW President and CEO Craig White. "We want to ensure that our customers can continue to feel good about using the natural gas we deliver."

This is the second consecutive year that PGW has received this honor.

Thank you to customers like you for helping us become Philadelphia's essential green utility for the second year in a row.

Swinging Big for Environment

The Philadelphia Phillies have a new look this season, but we're continuing our Home Runs for Trees program with the team and the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society.

Every time a Phillies player hits a home run, PGW and our partners pledge to plant a tree in a local park, urban setting or watershed area.

Keep up with the tree count throughout the season by following us on Twitter (@MyPGW) and friending us on Facebook (@MyPGW). Check using #HR4Trees.
